One of the chief events of the week was the Butler College Alumni Association banquet held Wednesday night in the gymnasium. Before going to the hall the annual election for the association's officers was held at the college, resulting in the selection of Mr. Hilton U. Brown, '80, for president; Mr. Walter O. Williams, '80 vice president; Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, '84. for secretary; Omar Wilson, '87, for treasurer. About one hundred sat down to the banquet. The toasts were as follows, with Mr. William F. Elliott as symposiarch: "The Missing Link," under "Biology," by Louis Newberger; "Explanation of the Heart's Action," under "Physiology," by Thomas M. Iden; "The Man of Destiny," under "History," by Frances Perry; "The Effect of the Moon on a Gate," under "Astronomy," by R. F. Davidson; "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring, Trala," under "Botany," by Rose McNeal. The toasts were exceptionally clever.

Never Mind the Weather.

Christian Advocate. The wise never find fault with the weath-Neither the other politeal party nor the other church, the Pope nor the pagans, the liquor traffic nor the Sabbath breakers, the infidels, Anarchists, corporations, nor labor unions can regulate the weather. He who holds the winds and waves in the hollow of His hand manages them as He will. And philosophy tells us to use all means to adapt ourselves to changes of the weather, and poetry and philosophy and religion agree in the sentiment:

"Then blow it east or blow it west, Whichever wind that blows is best; Whichever way the wind doth blow, Some heart is glad to have it so.

An Unpleasant Meeting. Richmond Dispatch. Patrick Ragan had a face on him that, as he had once remarked himself, was an "offince to the landscape." Next to his homeliness his poverty was the most conspicuous part of him. An Irish neighbor met him recently, when the following colloquy ensued: "An' how are ye, Pat?" "Moighty bad, intoirely. It's shtarvation that's shtarin' me in the face.'

"Is that so? Sure, an it can't be very pleasant for ayther of yez.' Righteously Punished. Chicago Tribune.

"Was he trying to deadbeat his way?" Academy. Mr. Charles Cooper, who has asked one of the passengers as the train started on again. "Worse than that," said the conductor flushed from his violent exertions; "he was taking a straw vote on free silver."

The Cause of the Trouble. Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph. Dinwiddle-I hear that Van Braam was overcome by the heat yesterday? Hiland-It might be called that. He asked Shingles if it was hot enough for him, and Shingles knocked him down.
